Trade fair — It's here!

With months of planning and preparation now complete, the stage is set for the Elk Point Agricultural Society's first-ever Trade Fair, which will open its doors at 3:00 p.m. Friday, April 15. Three fun-filled days, totalling 24 hours, have been planned for the enjoyment of all.

"There's something for everyone," says Agricultural Society President Glenn Harms. Almost 100 booths of exhibits of all kinds, from farm machinery and livestock needs to bridal gowns and balloon bouquets, will fill the A.G. Ross Arena to bursting, and will overflow to the surrounding area, with more exhibits outdoors. A food fair section will take care of hunger pangs produced by lengthy tours of the arena, with a variety of tasty treats available.

Entertainment will also cater to a diverse audience. Friday, Rob Davidson will put his sheep dogs through their paces outside the arena in two performances, at 4:45 and 5:45 p.m. Fashions from Paula Christie's Bridal Shop and St. Paul and District Co-op will be shown on the special events stage from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. Then it's time for an energetic performance by the Elk Point Skipping Team. Exhibits close at 10:00 p.m.

Saturday's activities kick off with a pancake breakfast sponsored by United Farmers of Alberta, starting at 8:30 a.m. Exhibits open at 10:00 a.m. and remain open until 10:00 p.m.

Saturday's entertainment features two performances each by the Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club, at 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and by Karen and the Wonder Dogs at 12:00 noon and 3:30 p.m.

Three — count them, three! — very different fashion shows are on Saturday's agenda. The first sponsored by the Lakeland Review, and entitled "Front Page Fashion Frolic" will display garments made from newspapers and modelled to win a variety of prizes, starting at 1:30. More conventional styles will be included in a show by Terry's Swim Wear and Sew and Knit, beginning at 4:00 p.m. No one's sure just what to expect from the third show, entitled "Farce and Fashions" and scheduled for 7:00 p.m., but it sounds like fun!

Saturday also includes a pet show at 2:00 p.m. and the entertaining antics of the Lakeland Theatre Company at 6:00 p.m.

Sunday's hours for the exhibits are 12:00 noon until 5:00 p.m. Karac Hendricks, a young vocalist from Heinsburg is first on the entertainment agenda, at 12:00 noon. Performances by Karen and the Wonder Dogs are scheduled for 1:00 p.m. and 3:15 p.m. while the Elk Point Ukrainian Dancers will entertain at 2:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m.

See you at the Fair!

Save the Children director Nakhoda coming Friday

Dr. Zulie Nakhoda, Save The Children Country Director for India, will be in Elk Point Friday evening to speak as part of the local Save The Children Week observances. Her address is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Elk Point Baptist Church.

Dr. Nakhoda, who received her Ph.D. in Sociology from the University of Bombay in 1958, has spent the last 25 years pursuing a career in social work and child welfare, gaining recognition in India and abroad as an excellent administrator in her chosen field.

In 1960, she was awarded a United Nations Fellowship in Social Welfare. For the past 16 years, until her recent appointment as CANSERVE Country Director in India, she held the position of administrator of the India Sponsorship Committee, coordinating the individual child sponsorship program for CANSERVE and eventually integrating the program with community development projects, which led to a community sponsorship program.

Dr. Nakhoda is currently vice-president of the India Council of Social Welfare and is actively involved in directing two welfare projects in slum areas of Bombay which include nursery schools, literacy classes for mothers, health and nutrition education and family planning.

The public is cordially invited to come and hear Dr. Nakhoda speak on her work and experiences with the CANSERVE program.

Minor Baseball & Minor Softball Registrations will be held

Wed., April 13, F.C.S.S. Building, Elk Point, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Volunteers -- next Thursday is your night

Elk Point Family and Community Support Services have set Thursday, April 21 as Volunteer Appreciation Night in Elk Point.

All the fine people who donate their time and talents to the various organizations throughout the year are cordially invited to attend the evening, set to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Services Centre.

The Lakeland Theatre Company will be providing the entertainment for this year's Volunteer Appreciation. This talented group of local young people are sure to tickle your funny bone with their lighthearted antics.

Coffee and goodies will be served to round out the evening.

Everyone welcome!

HILLSIDE TEXACO — Celebrated their grand opening last Saturday, with the proprietors Dave and Alice Yake and their children, James, Crystal and John, on hand to welcome the many well-wishers who attended.

Texaco opening held

Elk Point's newest service station, Hillside Texaco, was the scene of crowds and excitement Saturday as Dave and Alice Yake and family hosted the grand opening of their new business, which in addition to the gas bar, includes a mini food market.

A good crowd turned out to meet the Texaco Starman, sample the snack foods, and enter their names for a total of twenty three prize draws, which were made periodically through the day.

Winners were as follows: A & W Root Beer float kit and Coke cap, Ken Hildebrandt; Max Headroom T-shirt and Coke cap, Jim Orr; Walkman and Coke cap, John Brooker; Max Headroom towel and Coke cap, Karen Goheen; 6 boxes each, Old Dutch chips, Audrey Smith, Ron Dunlop; Screwdriver set, Melanie Boratyniec; wall clock, John Pankow; telephone, Gordon LeDrew; plier set, Lesia Porcina; 6 (each) jumbo cheese dogs, Dennis Parker, Jean Russell; 10 loaves (each) Golden Loaf bread, Sheldon Porcina, Archie Trach; case of grease, Wayne Hanson; 3 (each) 2 litre jugs of oil, Grace Barwick, Gerry Crabbe; grocery hamper, Ger-tie Theriault, Jarvie, Alberta; 30 litres of gas (each), Al Cobbins, St.

Albert, Harry Shankowski; kid's draw, 1 box hot rods, Christine McGilvery; voucher for extra large pizza, Jeff LeDrew; goodie hamper, Clinton Povaschuk.

Chamber prepares for trade fair participation

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce laid much-delayed plans for their part in Elk Point's upcoming trade fair at their first meeting in five weeks, Wednesday.

Dave Yake was appointed coordinator for the project, and will also arrange a time schedule of those manning the booth. The Chamber's banner, and artwork by Billie Lynne Milholland will decorate the booth, while material regarding tourism and the operation of the Chamber will be prepared as handouts. Four children's Lakeland T-shirts will be used as draw prizes, and there will also be pictures from the historical mural for children to take home and color. Elk Point Chamber memberships will also be on sale at the booth, as the 1988 membership drive nears the end.

Members were reminded that tourism week is coming up in mid-May. Billie Lynne Milholland was appointed as the Chamber's delegate to the Lakeland Tourist Association annual workshop in Lloydminster.

Bill Currey has volunteered to represent the Chamber at the Community Futures program.

Council studies spring cleanup

Sweeping away the last remains of winter was on Elk Point Town Council's lengthy meeting agenda Monday night, as plans for street sweeper repair and the designation of a clean-up week were given the go-ahead.

Motor repairs to the street sweeper are scheduled for the immediate future, with plans for the use of more water when sweeping to prevent dust-clogged filters and more attention to filter maintenance.

May 1 to 7 has been declared Spring Clean-up Week in Elk Point, during which public works staff will be making special rounds to pick up litter and debris set out by the residents. A map indicating which day pickup will be made in each area will be published in our April 27 issue to assist the residents in their clean-up efforts.

Waste disposal on a more long-standing basis was also discussed, with details of a proposal for joint use of the County of St. Paul modified sanitary landfill site south of the North Saskatchewan River to be worked out before a proposal can be drafted.

Conversion from the use of powdered to liquid alum for raw water treatment could save the town at least $6500 per year, council was told following study of the two alternatives by the Utilities Committee. Capital financing of $32,000 would be needed for the changeover, with half of this available from provincial capital grant funding. It was decided to incorporate capital financing for the project in the 1988 budget.

A land trade requested by Esso Petroleum Ltd., of their lot directly north of the Town Shop for a slightly smaller lot on its west side, was approved by council, with Esso to pick up any incidental expenses incurred in the exchange.

Council was advised that $64,450 in government funding is available under the recently announced Community Tourism Action Program if Elk Point passes a by-law structuring a planning committee to develop a municipal tourism action plan which would be submitted to the Minister of Tourism for approval.

Second and third readings were given to a by-law closing a lane behind property owned by Mrs.

Irene Miller, with the title for that lane property to be transferred to Mrs. Miller, when a title is created.

John Williams and Marvin Bjornstad of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital Board visited council to obtain clarification on a grant recently given to the hospital by the Town for purchase of a handi-van. A letter enclosed with the grant indicated that the van was to be used for any handicapped people in the Elk Point area, while the Hospital's insurance only permits the vehicle to be used for hospital-related trips. The board representatives also asked if prompt snow clearing of the emergency access to the hospital could be scheduled in case of heavy snow storms, and if there were any ongoing transportation grants available for operation of the van when taking seniors to and from rehabilitation programs in St. Paul. All three questions went to the appropriate committees for study.

A tax sale of three properties in Elk Point has been set for June 15 unless outstanding taxes are paid on the parcels before that time.

League curling champs

Elk Point's 1987-88 curling season drew to a close with the presentation of trophies to round robin and league champions Saturday night, following a potluck supper at the curling club.

Winners of both the men's round robin and men's "A" division was the Steve Penz rink, which included Murray Babcock, Jim Lindquist and Leonard Gadowski. Westmin Resources sponsored the round robin trophy.

The men's "B" division was captured by Wayne Smith, Allan Berg, Paul Ewasniuk and John Brooker.

Penz also skipped the rink which won both the Jor-Ann Enterprises trophy in the mixed round robin and the Woody's Trophy and Gifts trophies in the mixed "A" division. Curling with Penz were Monique Penz, Murray Babcock and Bernice Poleschuk.

Winning the mixed "B" division were Mike and Elsie Oryschuk, Donna and Larry Babcock.

Top honors in the ladies' league went to Stella Lorensen, Karen and Carrie Stafford and Doreen Youngmans. Second place went to Marge Osinchuk, Patsy Zarowny, Brenda Patroch and Elsie Quickstad.

Curling Club President Wayne Smith gave special thanks to the ladies' league for their efficient organization of the bonspiel banquet, as well as to Steve Penz, Murray Babcock, Leonard Gadowski and Les Meger for their help with the ice and building, and to the executive for their continuing efforts.

Christine Bintz was the winner of the television raffle draw.

The wonder of wildlife

Ducks floating serenely on a mirror-like pond . . . busy beavers engineering their latest dam . . . the silver arc of a trout leaping after a mosquito at twilight . . . the yodelling call of coyotes on the evening air . . .

Our Alberta wildlife enriches our lives with its beauty, whether we catch a glimpse of a family of deer emerging from the forest, or sight a long V of Canada geese winging high overhead, or watch a flock of brightly colored evening grosbeaks dining in an ash tree in the early winter dusk.

Wildlife is one of our most precious resources, as well as one which could not be replaced if hunted to extinction or destroyed by the destruction of food sources and habitat.

This is Wildlife Week. Let us all help our wildlife to survive by fighting to preserve natural habitats.

Alberta Trails

Our most precious possessions

About the time we reach our allotted three score years and ten - and often sometime before then - we start thinking about the "things" we have. Did we do as well as we once hoped? Have we accumulated as many of the comforts and prizes of life as we had worked for, saved for, and some - prayed for? And what, exactly, did we pine for, skimp, slave and whine for?

We often become surrounded with "things" we no longer can use, or want to use. Collections are bad, that way, as our homes get fuller and fuller, of those little items we once fancied, and would go to great lengths to accumulate. What shall we do with them all? Who will look after them when we are no longer able? And most things do require some 'looking after,' even if it's only to dust them now and then.

There are 'live' things, like plants and pets, gardens and trees, that require a lot of looking after. It's easy to fool ourselves that someone will look after these things for us. Well - of course they will - if they love us, right? But it doesn't work out that way. My dearly treasured odds and ends, my prize collections, may be just a bunch of junk to whomever will follow in my footsteps. It will probably be a good idea to trach as much as we can, give the good stuff away to some younger 'collector' and otherwise dispose of as much as we can do without, while we are still able to make these decisions. Kind of breaks your heart, doesn't it? Even thinking of it.

But I think I have found what we can have, at not too much stress to ourselves to look after - and the certain knowledge that someone will carry on cherishing them after we are gone. They will continue to be dusted and washed, watered and fed, whether we are able to do it or not. Sound good, so far?

Grandchildren! And when they grow out of the cuddle size, great-grandchildren. Lots of them. Ours to have and to hold - for as long as we want - then off they go to their Moms and Dads, leaving us the memories.

We don't have to teach them manners, or morals - their parents will probably get mad at us if we do - we don't have to fix their teeth, or haul them to the ball game. That's their parent's job. We can - if we want - but no one will criticize us much if we don't.

But what we can do, is love them. We can play with them, and admire their cute stunts and smart sayings, and brag about them to the neighbors, and buy them junk, and in general spoil them. We can miss them, too, when they live far away, and when they get old enough to find other things and other persons to fill all their thoughts and time.

We can miss them terribly, but we won't ever really lose them, for we can keep them in our memories. We can collect up all those pictures their parents give out so generously when they are small, and look at them again and yet again.

Maybe we can imprint on their minds so strongly that they will write us the odd letter. This is an excellent way to see how their minds are developing, even if it's only half a page, and their Mothers made them do it.

The really great letters are the ones they write all by themselves, with no prompting or coercion. These are the letters you MUST answer, for they usually come from the heart, and often contain a hidden question, something they might ask their parents, but don't want to. YOU have been trusted, and you'd better live up to that trust. It may not be turned to again - if you flub it.

I have lots of Grandkids. Fourteen head, all told. A mere pittance compared to the grandchildren my mother amassed - She had 44 and 40 great-grandkids, and some triplegrands - lots of 'em! So far I only have six G.G. kids, but I expect that to change, as time flies by. I only see these kids a few times a year now, most of them are off on the careers of their own lives.

I wouldn't want it otherwise. And they are learning to speak a different language, they live in another time, their values may not be the same as those I thought important long ago.

But in my heart - I have them! I have pictures of the days when they were tiny, when I carried them around, sometimes far into the night, on those odd baby-sitting occasions. I have them all spiffed up, when their parents brought them for a birthday, or for Christmas; and sometimes got to keep them for a summer week or two, to show them the farm, the animals we used to have, to push them high on the swing.

I have them in the berry patch, not lasting long, but eager for a sweet taste of sun-warmed fruit ... cracking a crisp green pea pod ... chomping a carrot fresh from the garden, washed under the tap.

I have - in my mind - grandchildren making squeaky music, scrawling giant letters, drawing lopsided cows, picking wilty dandelions to give their Mothers, (and sometimes, one for me).

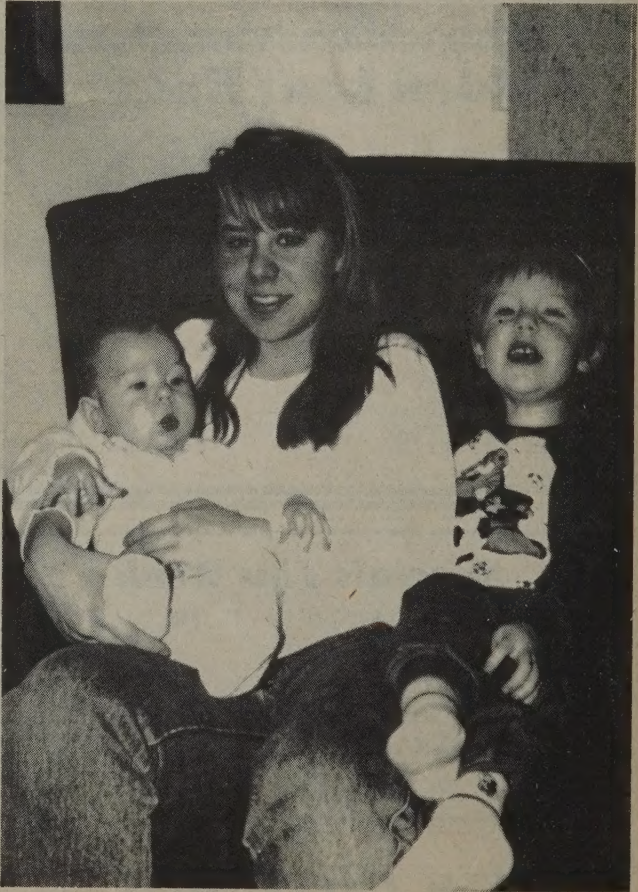

Today I got a letter from a Granddaughter, and with it, a story she has written - just for me. She signed her letter "Love, forever and ever, Joy," then, (over). I turn the page, "P.S. I miss you!"

It's nice to know somebody cares. And I wouldn't trade my lovely Grandkids for all the gold in Peru. Even if mostly they are only memories. They will surely outlast all my owls and books and other junk.

THIS IS MY FIRST GRANDCHILD — With her first-born son - easy for me to see her just as young!

I. Magnusson

GRANDDAUGHTERS DO GROW UP — Some become aunts, but we can keep them 'baby size' in our memories. This is Tammy, with Jeff and Brad.

Baptist ladies plan special day

The ladies of Elk Point Baptist Church have a special day planned for this coming Saturday, when they will hold their first annual Ladies' Rally at the Church, beginning with registration at 9:00 p.m.

Mary Amalia, a missionary to Ethiopia from Glendon, will share her work with the ladies during the morning session, while Mary Kasson of Edmonton will speak on "Feminism in Society" and "Feminism in the Church" during the afternoon.

Coffee and luncheon will be provided, with the men of the congregation volunteering their aid to serve and clean up.

For further information, call Sheila

Martin at 724-3154 or Margaret Modin at 724-3605.

Coming Events

"BINGO" every Tuesday evening in May, June and July, 1988 at 8:00 p.m. at the Elks Hall, Elk Point, Alta. Royal Canadian Legion Branch #151.

The hope and glory of Easter

By Irene Magnusson

Springtime and Easter were certainly made for each other, both bringing hope and new life to mankind. In the churches of Elk Point, there was joyful observation of this very holy occasion, much of it in the language of music.

The United Church chose Good Friday to bring the message of the sacrifice of Christ, how He died and was resurrected, for the salvation of Man. The choir of over a dozen voices, accompanied by Debbie Lou Huskins at the piano, sang again the beautiful songs of Easter.

Reverend Sam Donaldson led the attentive congregation in praise and prayers, and welcomed all to the Cantata.

A solo was offered by Danny Quinn, a new voice to many of those listening, and a real treat, as he sang with conviction and drama, the chilling story of Christ's betrayal and crucifixion.

The choir then proceeded through the old, old story, ever new, of the events leading through those fateful days, with all the sorrow and then, the arising of Jesus, and the great hope for all mankind.

The mostly-female voices of the choir were pleasing and clear, with several solos, offered by Don Conrad, Debbie Lou Huskins, and Ella Skawronski, intermingling.

Readings from the Scriptures, between each musical performance, tied the songs together beautifully. Readings were done by Mr. Joe Brunner. One could appreciate the many hours of rehearsals required to bring the fourteen or fifteen musical selections to such perfection, and the applause following the last notes showed the listeners were aware of this, and had enjoyed the performance deeply.

Rev. Donaldson closed the Good Friday services with words of praise for the love of Jesus. "All points of the Crucifixion were covered," he said, thanking the choir for their performance, and inviting all to stay for coffee, following the service, courtesy of the church ladies. The choir sang at the Easter Sunday services, too.

The choir of the Elk Point Baptist Church had not been idle, and had ready a lovely group of songs of praise to the Lord, for the Easter Sunday service in the "Church of the Hill."

Reverend John McGregor welcomed the faithful (and at least one not-so-faithful) as they gathered to hear once again the stirring tale, the promise of life everlasting offered to believers by God and His Son, Jesus.

The church was bright and cheerful, bouquets of white Easter lilies and golden yellow chrysanthemums brought by caring hands.

The choir filed in and took their places, all the ladies dressed in flowing robes, in pretty pastel shades so suited to the Easter season. Matching songbooks, be-ribboned, and matching wreath of flowers in their hair completed the simple but striking effect.

Led by talented music master John McNabb, with readings interspersed by Lawrence Modin, and with recorded accompaniment, the group offered a song-story of the betrayal, crucifixion, and triumphant resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and Savior of mankind.

Reverend McGregor delivered a stirring sermon, the theme of which was "He's Alive!" Following the service, the younger children gathered at the church front, forming a circle with Rev. McGregor and joining him in prayer - a most delightful sight.

Elk Point has other churches, and I'm sure they, too, were well-filled on differing occasions over the Easter-tide. I am also sure the message they gave to their congregations was the same wonderful story, of hope and salvation, that has rang down the centuries for two thousand years. There is so much hate and war and misery in this world, it is too bad all could not hear the message, the promise, the hope and love and glory of Easter.

4-H MultiClub news

By Jodi Vogel

Club Reporter

On Wednesday, March 10/88, we held our monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the F.G. Miller High School. Roll call was taken with junior members telling us their "Favorite Class" and senior members answering "The Benefits of 4-H".

Pesticide kits were discussed and are being sold at U.F.A. and Wheat Pool for $30 each. These will also be sold at the Trade Fair to be held on April 15, 16, 17, 1988.

Our club will be holding a mini-achievement day on April 24 at the Stoney Lake Corral.

The first weekend in May is fast approaching and that means highway cleanup. This year we will be cleaning 10 miles south of Elk Point, so when you see us on this day, a toot of your horn would brighten our day.

Ricky Piotrowski gave his prepared speech at the meeting, being that he wasn't available to speak with the club on Sunday, March 13 in the Elementary School gymnasium. On behalf of our club, I'm very proud to announce Elena Drobot and Dale Pinder as our first place speakers.

Our meeting ended with some very funny impromptu speeches about "chickens laying square eggs" and "waking up in a burning house".

On Saturday, March 26, we journeyed to the Northlands Agricom for the Super-Rodeo.

Our next meeting will be held on Thursday, April 14, at 7:30 in the F.G. Miller High School.

Four Reasons Why Treated Canola Seed Is Your Best Start To A More Profitable Ending

Convenience. You don't have to bother with the mess, hassle and risk of treating seed yourself. That gives you more time for other farm duties.

A Professional Job. Alberta Pool has the right equipment to give you the best treated canola seed possible.

Uniform Coating. Treated canola seed from Alberta Pool gives you solid protection against flea beetles and seedling disease including seedling blight, damping-off . . . even blackleg.

Low Cost. Treated canola seed from Alberta Pool can more than pay for itself with higher yields.

Talk to your Alberta Pool manager today about a more profitable ending to the year. Ask for Alberta Pool treated canola seed.

What do you know about AIDS?--Health Unit

AIDS is on the increase in Alberta. Already there have been over eighty cases, including fifty deaths. It is estimated that between 4,000 and 8,000 people are infected in Alberta. Some may remain infectious for the rest of their lives without actually developing a full-blown case of the disease. Others will develop only symptoms. But symptoms take several years to develop. As the disease spreads more questions are being asked about it. An understanding of how the disease can be contracted is essential to prevent a rising tide of fear and irrational behavior to

AIDS sufferers.

What essential facts do you know about AIDS? Check the answers that you think are correct. There may be more than one correct answer to a question.

1. What causes AIDS?

- a) A Virus_____
- b) A Bacteria_____
- c) Kissing_____
- d) Sexual Intercourse_____

2. When did the AIDS disease first appear in North America?

- a) 1978_____
- b) It has always been present_____

c) 1985_____

3. How is AIDS spread?

- a) From public toilets_____
- b) Through sexual intercourse with an infected person_____
- c) Only through homosexual intercourse_____
- d) Only from prostitutes_____
- e) Kissing an infected person_____

4. How can you tell if someone is infected with the AIDS virus?

- a) The person will be ill_____
- b) The person has to be more than 30 years old_____
- c) Not possible to tell_____

5. Who are at high risk of acquiring AIDS?

- a) Persons who are prone to frequent bouts of cold and other minor infections_____
- b) Illicit drug users_____
- c) Prostitutes_____
- d) Persons who have casual non-sexual contact with AIDS victims_____
- e) Persons who use the same eating utensils as AIDS victims_____

More questions will appear in next weeks issue.

AIDS QUIZ ANSWERS

1. a) The virus is called HIV which stands for Human Immunodeficiency Virus. Since AIDS only manifests itself several years after the virus is acquired actual cases of AIDS appeared early in the eighties.

2. b) The virus was introduced from Africa about 1978.

3. b) Anyone who is infected with the virus can transmit it to his or her partner(s) through sexual intercourse. Homosexual males with multiple partners and prostitutes run a greater risk of acquiring AIDS as do other persons who have multiple sex partners.

4. c) When a person is infected with HIV - the virus that causes AIDS - it may never give rise to symptoms even although he can pass the disease on to others through sexual contact. About 30% to 40% of persons who are infected with the virus go on to develop AIDS after a latent period of several years during which time the person appears perfectly healthy. At the present time there is no cure for AIDS.

5. b) and c) Drug users acquire the infection through sharing needles with persons who are infected with HIV since the needles are contaminated with infected blood. Others at high risk are persons who have multiple sex partners.

Watercolor exhibit planned

"Wisps of Watercolor," a collection of 14 works by local artist Donna Dahmer, will be on display at Elk Point Municipal Library next week, opening to the public next Monday evening and continuing during library hours all week. A private showing on Sunday evening will coincide with the visit of Alberta author Grant MacEwan.

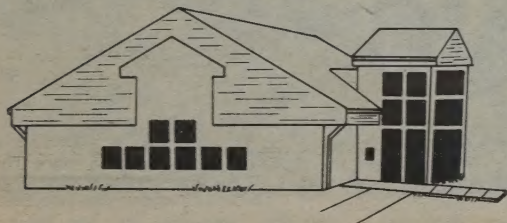

Local scenes are the subject for many of the paintings, while others are of the British Columbia coastal islands.

Mrs. Dahmer, a former art instructor for the Department of Extension and the Edmonton Art Gallery, painted primarily in oils until about 5 years ago, when she moved her focus to watercolors. She is presently teaching a course in watercolors for Elk Point Further Education.

Mrs. Dahmer's works have travelled as far as England, Ottawa and both coasts of Canada, as well as gracing the walls of homes in the St. Paul area.

WHAT'S NEWS

at the Library

To celebrate National Book Festival Week, the North East Library Project is sponsoring a visit by author, Grant MacEwan. He will give a reading at the Elk Point Public Library, Sunday April 17th at 6:30 p.m. Consider this your invitation to come and hear this great author and historian. Some books available in the library, by this author are:

The Tatanga Mani - Walking Buffalo of the Stonies; And Mighty Women Too - Stories of Notable Western Canadian Women; Sitting Bull - The Years in Canada; Charles Noble - Guardian of the Soil; Heavy

Horses - Marie Anne, Frederick Haultain; The Rhyming Horseman of Qu'Appelle; Blazing the Old Cattle Trail; Entrusted to My Care; John Wares Cow Country; Between the Red and the Rockies; Power For Prairie Plows; Portraits From the Plains; Fifty Mighty Men; Memory Meadows.

Autographed books will be available to purchase.

Those attending the authors visit will also have the opportunity to a private showing of artwork by artist Donna Dahmer. The official opening of the art display will be held Monday evening April, 18 from 7-9 p.m. refreshments will be served. The art collection will also be available for viewing Tuesday, April 19, 10-5 p.m.; Wednesday, April 20, 10-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.; Thursday, April 21, 1-5 p.m.; Friday, April 22, 10-5 p.m. and Saturday, April 23, 1-5 p.m.

Don't forget to visit the Elk Point Public Library food booth at the Trade Fair. Help support the Library!

Several weeks ago a young boy who attended our Thursday matinee, left his winter jacket (size 8) behind. Please come and get it, if it's yours.

Racewalking capital hosts workshop

Hello from Canada's racewalking capitol — Elk Point, Alberta!

Racewalker Holly Burton, who ranks second in her sport for the province, and 14th in all of Canada, says that Elk Point, with 2 competing racewalkers, herself and fellow school teacher Denise Kissel, for a population of 1300 people, ranks first in the country, at racewalker per 650 people. Brockville, Ontario, population 20,000, is way behind in second place, with one racewalker for every 2000 people.

Ms. Burton instructed ten more potential racewalkers at a workshop in Elk Point last Saturday, which also covered the fine points of racewalking's somewhat slower and less ambitious cousin power walking. Her twin sister Heather helped with the demonstrations.

Participants first learned a series of warm-up exercises, suitable for many fitness activities, which involve gentle stretching of muscles in neck, shoulders, waist and thighs. Then, into a line for the first attempt at power walking — arms swinging in unison, long strides, heads up and a "purposeful attitude," as all marched back and forth, Ms. Burton encouraging and pointing out the various aspects of technique. Not difficult at all, the group discovered, as they were commended on their performance.

After a brief discussion and demonstration regarding the appropriate shoes for the sport — Ms. Burton's are feather-eight and feature a thick, cushiony sole and heel — it was on to racewalking, or at least, an attempt at racewalking. Back into the line, while the Burton sisters demonstrate: swivel the hips, lock the knee, bend the arms. And, they're off — up and down the Community Services Centre gym. This is more difficult — some don't swivel in the middle readily, one finds it hard to step heel first, but all have fun.

Then out in the hall, where the group starts at a normal walk, advances into power walking, then to racewalking. At the north doors, all turn and repeat the procedure. Back at the entrance, it's time to venture outdoors, for a walk to the library. Some choose each alternative speed, all arrive quite ready to sit down and watch the two videos Ms. Burton has brought. The first showing herself and Ms. Kissel in a race in Edmonton, the second showing former Elk Point resident Janice McCaffrey winning last year's national racewalking championship.

Ms. McCaffrey, who now resides in Calgary and is expecting her second child 3½ months hence, recently won the Alberta racewalking championship, coming in 13 seconds ahead of Ms. Burton in the 3 kilometre course.

STEPPING OUT — Elk Point's new crop of fledgling racewalkers step out bravely under the direction of Holly Burton (centre, in white sweater) at last Saturday's Racewalking Workshop, sponsored by Elk Point Recreation and Culture.

FARM DEBT REVIEW BOARD AND YOU!

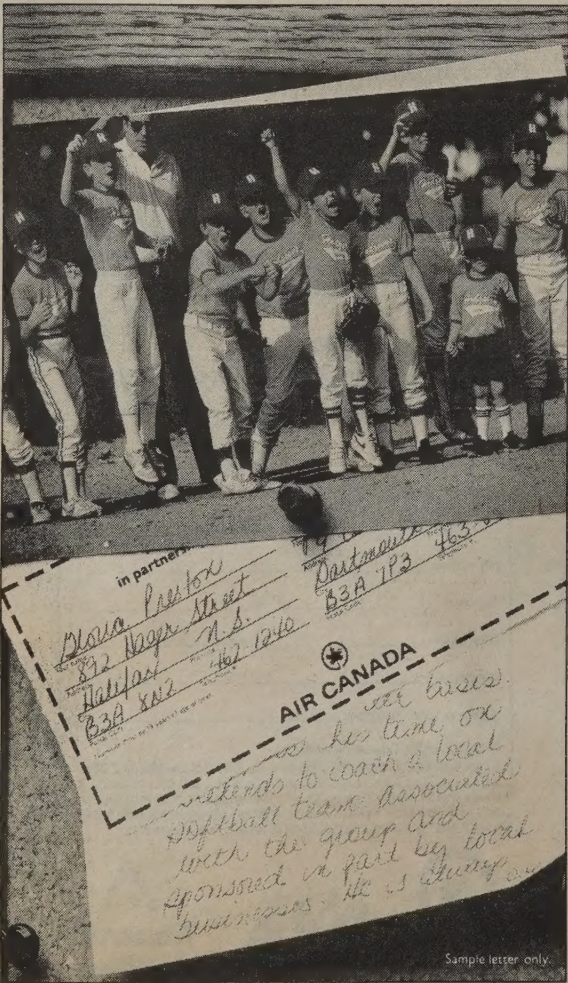

The Federal Budget of February 26, 1986 announced that legislation would be introduced to establish a farm debt review board system. On August 5, 1986 the Farm Debt Review Act became law.

The legislator insures that farm operations in financial difficulty, or actually facing a farm foreclosure situation, have access to an impartial third-party review of the individual farm circumstances and possible alternatives and options. A voluntary agreement between a farmer and his creditor(s) for mutually satisfactory arrangements will be sought.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk

Two Landonville Cribbage winners, Horace Osinchuk and Elaine Trach played in the winners' tournament at the Salt Plant on March 12. Elaine was the over-all winner at that tournament.

The Landonville Whist Drive on March 30 saw a full house of ten tables playing. Mike Nowosad and Antonia Gozkolko were the high scores, with Alex Nowosad and Elda Etherington placing second. Lucille (Luke) Clack and Susie Goad took home the loonies, and Melanie (Mel) Trach and Marj Osinchuk won the Travelling prizes. Melanie Trach and Eddie Etherington won the Jackpot.

Letter to the editor

How can we avoid further strikes?

To The Editor:

We are told that strike action is the final tool that labor has to have his demands met. We know that it is an action that does a lot more harm than good. Both sides suffer heavy losses and many innocent people are hurt by a strike. Production ceases, movement of goods and services is halted, unity, love and compassion are tossed aside and the whole country is set back.

The teachers did not want to go on strike neither did the nurses (some nurses continued working) nor other workers that are forced into this situation. The trustees and the parents did not want a strike neither did the school bus contractors and drivers.

After a strike is over there is still much unhappiness on all sides because it did not accomplish all that it was meant to.

We heard over and over during this strike that teaching should be called an essential service. Calling a service essential is not enough as we found out in the recent nurses strike. Every service is essential, be it teaching, nursing, policing, truck driving, garbage hauling, waitressing, delivering mail or anything else.

One of the teachers told us at the St. Paul public meeting that he is a farmer. The last thing he needs at harvest time when the pressure is on and every minute counts, is to have his harvest hands shut down his harvest operation because of wage demands he is unwilling to pay. To be forbidden to bring in other workers would surely make matters worse. I'm sure he would look for a way to never get into this kind of a predicament again.

I have three suggestions.

1. Strikes should be outlawed as detrimental to the whole country and accomplishing absolutely nothing. They only give us long-lasting, far-reaching hurts and bitternesses. Wages for teachers should be the same all across the province so that we will not be able to compare. I really believe this would be helpful and have been told that this is how Saskat-

The next Whist Drive at Landonville is on Wed., April 13 at 7 p.m.

We have lost two pioneers of our area. Mrs. Hilda Dorey passed away on March 25, at the age of 95. Mrs. Dorey came to Landonville in 1915, from England. She lived here, married and raised her family, then retired with her husband Bill to Summerland, B.C., where they lived until his death in 1968.

Mrs. Dorey moved to Vermilion, where she has lived for the last twenty years.

Mr. Eddie Stockwell passed away on March 28, at the age of 82. He came to Clandonald in 1906, when he was one year old, from Basingstoke, England. His home has always been in this area, first on the family homestead, then in Clandonald. He was always active, helping his wife Mary raise their two daughters, farming, working for his community as historian, cemetery caretaker, active member for the Friendship Centre, and friend.

It is not possible to write an adequate tribute to the contributions made to our community and lives by people like Mrs. Dorey and Mr. Stockwell. We are fortunate that they were our neighbours and friends.

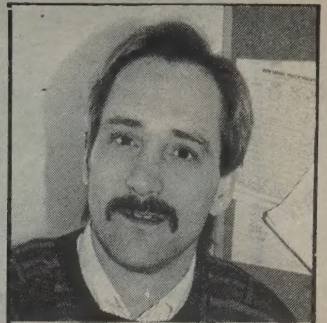

The Easter egg contest winners at the school were: Melissa Cusack, Chris Bardoel, Lyle Lawrence and Nadine DeFord.

The Clandonald Local Advisory Board annual meeting will be held on Tues., April 19 in the school gym. Dr. Al Anderson, Superintendent of Schools will speak and answer any questions related to education. There will be no elections this year. Plan to attend and find out what your Local Advisory Board does. Stay for refreshments.

At school in April: the Grades 3,4,7, and 8 will be taking Red Cross swimming lessons at the Vermilion pool; Junior High students will take part in the County Badminton Tournament in Vermilion on April 19; all students will speak in the Public Speaking on Friday, April 22; Report cards will be given out on April 25, and Parent-teacher interviews are scheduled for the next Friday, April 29.

"Mommy, Mommy, the teacher got mad at me for something I didn't do." Mother: "That's terrible. What was it?"

"My homework."

chewan operates. Our Alberta teachers should strive to that end. People being as everlastingly dissatisfied as they are will then look to other provinces that pay more (not the ones that pay less) and want as much as the workers there get.

My daughter drives a transit bus in Edmonton and a few years ago was forced into a strike because the drivers wanted wage parity with Vancouver. We all know that the amount we need is always a little more than we are getting.

2. Never should bargaining be dragged on for a year or more after a contract has expired. We are told that when bargaining begins each side is at a ridiculous extreme. If one side is seeking five percent then don't begin at ten percent and if management wants workers to stay at zero then don't begin at a five percent rollback. We are told that the rollback offered to the teachers was a real slap in the face for them. I suppose there will always be bargaining with each side trying to get the best deal possible but this auction market type of selling can surely get out of hand. There must be serious bargaining and a new contract in place no later than the day the old one expires.

3. If management and labor cannot come to an agreement arbitrators should be brought in. They will look at both sides and make the decision that management and labor could not make. Arbitration and binding arbitration are not foreign to us.

I'm sure we all hope that we will never see a strike like this again so let us strive toward (1) outlawing strikes, (2) bargain seriously knowing a new contract must be in place before the old one expires, (3) call in arbitrators before the strike rather than after it has continued for some months and done its terrible damage.

May I try in closing to swing our thinking a bit more toward center. The teachers have been bitterly attacked during this strike. Did you ever think that your family allowance, seniors' allowance, farm subsidies tax breaks and other government assistance may be coming from the teachers tax bill? A single teacher making $40,000 a year spends at least $10,000 of that in income tax yet we do not allow them to open their mouth and tell us this.

It is time for us all to straighten our halos and collectively work toward a strike free society and country.

Fitting name for park

To whom it may concern:

Spring has arrived and it won't be long before the Elk Point mural is completed. I assume that work on the mural site will be underway soon, and that the mural will be on display there sometime this summer. It won't be long before a name has to be decided on for the new park.

I have noticed that Elk Point has named the Jr./Sr. High School after Dr. F.G. Miller, and that the skating arena has been named after Dr. A.G. Ross. I think it would be very fitting to name the new park after Dr. Anne Wiegerinck.

As well as being remembered as a dedicated physician, she was also an active person in the community. Dr. Wiegerinck was an active curler, and chairman of the Library board, among many other things. Given these activities, and the fact that the mural park is located right next to the curling rink and the Library, it would seem very appropriate to name the mural park after her.

Your's truly,
M. O'Neill

County of St. Paul No. 19 Agricultural Service Board

Has nominations open for the

NORTHLANDS FARM FAMILY AWARD

The Agricultural Service Board invites nominations for the Northlands Farm Family Award. If you know of a farm family in the County of St. Paul who is actively farming, involved in the community, runs a well organized farm and have their major source of income from agricultural products, you may nominate them for the Northlands Farm Family Award.

The winning family will spend the day at Edmonton Northlands on July 25, 1988 during Klondike Days, as well as receive travel expenses and a gate sign.

Nomination forms may be picked up from the Agricultural Fieldman or D.A. Offices. The deadline for applications is April 22, 1988. For more information, contact Dennis at 645-3301 or the D.A. at 645-6301.

Elk Point WonderDogs to perform at the Trade Fair

Are the Super Dogs here? No, it's Elk Point's own Wonder Dogs! The Elk Point Wonder Dogs are training hard to become a permanent fixture for this town to boast about. The team originated with a request for a dog demonstration as part of the Elk Point Trade Fair. It presently consists of 10 dogs and their handlers, former graduates of Lakeland College's Obedience classes taught by Karen Reed.

Their routine includes a musical parade, hurdle racing, hoop jumping, ladder climbing and much more. Mrs. Reed is thrilled with the team's hard work and dedication, and hopes that these will continue. "After 10 years of working with dogs, these people are helping to make one of my dreams come true, and I'm darned proud of them all!"

Word has spread fast since the team was formed last January, and appearances have been requested by the Elk Point Elementary Grade 2 class and the Elk Point Hospital, and the Medicine Hat Dog Club has invited them to their show in September.

The team hopes that the town will appreciate and be as proud of the Elk Point Wonder Dogs as the members are, as they debut at the Trade Fair in April.
